NEW SPINOLOGY TRAINING PROGRAM USING BLENDED LEARNING

EUROPEAN SPINOLOGY TUTORIUM

Hello from the spinology school in Spain, we are pleased to announce the new type of course European Spinology Tutorium offers for this coming new season.

Until now we had, and still have, the in site model of course that is being taught since 1990.

The world has changed and now other forms of education are imposed.

It is for this reason that we are launching this new blended learning type of course.

We think it is an opportunity to meet your desire to study Spinology with us and have a decent and clean profession help many people to live with more quality.

What is blended learning?

Blended learning or b-learning could be defined as the combination of classroom teaching and non-contact through technology. Today it is one of the strongest teaching methods in the educational field.
